The chimney was made of liquorice. The wall was made of chocolate. The door was made of toffee. "Let's stay and eat the wall," said Thandi. It was delicious. "Let's stay and eat the door," said Thomas. It was delicious, too! Suddenly an old man came out. "Stop eating my house," he shouted. "Go away! You can't play here." He chased after them. The children did not wait. They ran away as fast as they could. The children ran quickly down the forest path. Luckily, it was the right path this time. Soon they saw Thandi's parents. They were looking for them! Thandi and Thomas were safe and happy.
